DAY IN THE LIFE

Good Morning. Let’s get it done.

The subway, the bus, the highway, or bike.

Coffee and a croissant in the park.

Meetings in offices where big ideas come to life and defining moments are made.

Time to refuel. Food trucks, outdoor dining, fast-casual favorites. Options are endless.

Stop for a smile, a laugh, a moment in the grass.

Back upstairs, team huddle on the terrace with the smartest people you know.

After hours. Skeeball. Outdoor movie screenings. Happy Hour drinks and bites.

This is where we choose to be. These are the people we choose to be with. We’re in on it together.

Tomorrow, we do it all again. Are you in? Let’s move mountains.
THE PATH FORWARD

Our Commitment ................................................................. 55
Building upon our country’s historic values of invention, equity, entrepreneurship and courage, we’re introducing a new chapter for Philadelphia. Through a partnership with Drexel University, Brandywine is continuing to transform the city’s skyline with our pinnacle development, Schuylkill Yards. This is a place where people are truly connected with the community, and where visionary brands unite with driven, entrepreneurial-minded people. A place unlike anywhere else in the world, designed by the world’s best architects, engineers, planners and designers.
our own defining place.
THIS IS OUR SPECIAL PLACE
WE SERIOUSLY LOVE THIS CITY

Nestled between two rivers, Philadelphia is the place where we make history. It’s the place where we spend our Saturdays meandering through some of the country’s most acclaimed arts and culture destinations. It’s where we sample global cuisines at James Beard award-winning restaurants, and tap our feet to music in concert halls every night of the week. We jog along the largest urban park system in the world—at 9,200 acres—exploring bike trails, walking paths, and pocket parks. It’s no wonder people are coming from near and far to be a part of this.
Our neighborhood connects Center City’s established business district with University City’s renowned academic core, so it just got easier to recruit the nation’s best and brightest. This is where the risk-takers, boundary-pushers, and forward-thinkers choose to set roots. We have a global perspective, but we all speak the same language: we can. We will. Let’s do it. We are committed to making big changes, and together, we are driving key advances in life sciences, medicine, technology, and business.
Energy is contagious. That’s why being around smart people makes you smarter. In 2017, the FDA approved the first-ever gene therapy process for treating blindness. The applicant: our very own Spark Therapeutics, a startup founded by researchers from the Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia. Four months earlier, the FDA had approved the first-ever cell therapy, discovered in Dr. Carl June’s laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania.

We know we are our best selves when we have a few minutes outside to reset. That’s why Schuylkill Yards sits along the banks of the river, on the side of town that’s lush and green, with room to breathe. We spend our days wandering along the Schuylkill River, which flows for 135 miles, houses 5 trails, and greets 1 million unique visitors each year. We check out local farmer’s markets and catch outdoor movie screenings.

Everything is better when we’re outside, taking in the sights and sounds together.

GREEN SPACES GROW GOOD FEELINGS

100 Acres of Public Space in University City

15% of UCity is Covered in Trees

surpassing most PHL neighborhoods and peer innovation cities
When we set out to create Schuylkill Yards, we prioritized creating a central place that would bring the community together. Drexel Square opened to the public in June 2019 and is the first piece of 6.5 acres of greenspace within our master plan. Today, the 1.3 acre park is our place to catch yoga, take an afternoon meeting outdoors, or enjoy a snack under the shade of 23 soaring Dawn Redwood trees.
Directly connected to Drexel Square, one of West Philadelphia’s most beloved and storied buildings has become an important part of our collective future. Soon, new retail and restaurant concepts will activate 4,000 square feet of outdoor seating on the ground-level of the fully reimagined building, bringing outdoor dining, a myriad of food and drink options, and a whole lot of fun. This is the center of Schuylkill Yards, and it’s about all of us.
all of us.
We like things a little... different. A little less status-quo, a little more “oh, wow.” Working with our partners at Practice for Architecture and Urbanism (PAU) to artfully merge historic building materials with sleek, modern architecture, we designed two iconic Towers on JFK Blvd. From the outside, the West Tower’s neutral façade provides stark contrast against the East Tower’s bold palette, adding a pop of color to the skyline. Inside, spaces are open, energized, and bright.
The tower promises to be looser and groovier than anything Philadelphia has seen in a while.

- Designed for LEED Silver
- KOZ and QOZ eligible
We use greenspace to make connections between people, places, and ideas. With a raised deck, seat-steps, and striking views of the city, the Highline Park was designed by leading landscape architecture firm SWA/Balsey to connect the East and West Towers. It’s where we dine outside, catch funky art installations, and enjoy some much-needed calm and quiet.

in on it together.
We are multi-modal by nature. Whether by foot, bike, car, or public transit, we never want to slow down. Designed to anticipate the ways we move, these streets are more efficient, sustainable, and activated. With generous sidewalks, lush landscaping, and a two-way, protected bicycle lane, JFK Blvd & Market Street will rival other iconic urban boulevards around the world.
SPACE THAT ANTICIPATES THE FUTURE

We design environments for inspiration and innovation. At 3151 Market, we worked with leading Life Science architect, Gensler, to design a building that is both functional and elegant, with a striking, sustainable design, large, open floorplates, and state-of-the-art building systems.

- 489,000 SF
- 417,000 RSF of life science space
- 39,000 RSF typical floor plate
- 18,000 SF retail/amenity space
- 6,000 SF of terraces
- 70 below-grade parking spaces
- Designed to LEEDv4 Platinum and WELL Silver standards
We understand the impact the built environment can have on human health and well-being. Our spaces are designed to market-leading standards in sustainability and wellness, featuring superior indoor air quality, optimized fresh air intake, touchless features, upgraded technology, high-end antimicrobial finishes, ample natural light, direct access to the outdoors and more.
Two decades ago, Brandywine invested in University City’s untapped potential, capitalizing on its unmatched access to transit, universities, research and medical facilities and top talent. Beginning with the development of Cira Centre, we expanded Philadelphia’s skyline west of the Schuylkill River, linking the central business district with an emerging economic and innovation hub. Through thoughtful placemaking and strategic partnerships, we are creating a neighborhood for new businesses and world-class talent, and positioning Philadelphia as a leading global city, rich with diverse cultural and lifestyle experiences.
WE’RE BUILDING BRIDGES

West Philadelphia has always been incredible, so when we started all this, we started by listening. Jobs. Training. Affordable housing. Education. These are the things that matter, our neighbors told us. So, these are the things we’ve doubled down on. In collaboration with a wide range of partners, we introduced an unprecedented Neighborhood Engagement Initiative as part of Schuylkill Yards, totaling a $16+ million commitment to the community.

Programs include:

• Grow Philadelphia Capital Fund
• Local Sourcing Initiative
• CDC Co-Development Program
• Construction Apprenticeship Preparatory Program
• Community Fund for affordable housing, small and minority businesses, education and capacity building
What also gives Schuylkill Yards a unique edge is the social responsibility vision that Brandywine is driving.
